

Progression Exams:

Following the decision to cancel the Progression Exams for first years a number of questions have arisen. Whilst we do not have concrete answers to these questions, we want to reassure students that when College life returns to normal we will work hard, with them, to ensure that the Covid-19 outbreak has not disadvantaged them in any way.

Students have asked us the following:

When will my Progression Exams be held? At this point there are no plans in place. If we are in a position to hold these, we will ensure students have plenty of notice so that they are fully prepared.

Do I keep revising? We encourage students to continue their consolidation throughout the year anyway, so yes. Where practical, please continue to work independently and maintain your studies whether you are in College or at home. Remember that any preparation for Progression Exams was preparation for the real exams in a year's time.

How will the College decide the predicted grades? Again, at this stage we do not have specific plans to share with you. Please be reassured that any process for deciding predictions will be fair and transparent.
