

This privacy notice will be subject to regular review and will be updated to reflect changes in the collection or use of personal information.

How we use your personal information

Your information will be held by The Sixth Form College Farnborough as part of The Prospect Trust. This privacy notice explains how we collect, use and process your personal data. This includes data you provide and data we acquire by having you as an applicant/student.

Your privacy is important to us and we are committed to protecting and safeguarding your data privacy rights.

You may wish to show this privacy notice to a parent/guardian to help you understand it fully.

Why we collect personal data

We use your personal information to support your application and enrolment into the College and, once you become a student, to support your learning. Beyond this, other reasons include:

- to keep students and parents/guardians informed;
- to safeguard students' welfare and provide appropriate pastoral and medical care;
- to provide education services (including SEN), careers services and extracurricular activities;
- to administer the bursary and free school meal provision;
- to administer trips and activities;
- to meet our legal and statutory duties and responsibilities;
- to demonstrate student eligibility for and obtain government funding;
- to monitor and report on student progress;
- to carry out planning and forecasting, research, and statistical analysis;
- to assess the quality of our services;
- to enable students to take part in national or other assessments;
- to support students through the higher education application process;
- to create and/or maintain students' personal learning records;
- to provide access to student services such as online payments, parking and catering;
- to facilitate consultation evening booking and management;
- for referencing purposes;

- to enable local authorities and schools to carry out their obligations regarding student tracking and reporting;
- for College advertising and promotional purposes; and
- for the administration of enquiries and complaints.

Legal basis for processing

Data protection law allows us to collect and process personal data if we have a lawful basis to do so. We consider the processing of your personal data to be either:

- necessary for the performance of tasks we carry out in the public interest e.g. education;
- necessary for compliance with a legal obligation; or
- necessary for the pursuit of the legitimate interests of the College.

If we require your consent for any specific use of your personal information, we will collect it at the appropriate time and you can withdraw this consent at any time through CristalWeb or by contacting the Registry.

Education and Skills Funding Agency

Personal information is collected by the ESFA in accordance with the terms and conditions of funding imposed on providers of learning e.g. the College. Your personal information is processed by the DfE, and by those third party organisations when they process your information on behalf of the DfE, to enable the DfE to carry out its functions. The ESFA Privacy Notice can be found here: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/esfa-privacy-notice>.

Learning Records Service

The information you supply is used by the Learning Records Service (LRS). The LRS issues Unique Learner Numbers (ULN) and creates Personal Learning Records across England, Wales, and Northern Ireland, and is operated by the Department for Education (DfE) in England. For more information about how your information is processed, and to access your Personal Learning Record, please refer to: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/lrs-privacy-notices>.

How we use your data to make automated decisions

We sometimes use systems to make automated decisions based on personal data we have or are allowed to collect from others. This ensures our decisions are quick, fair, efficient and correct, based on what we know. You have a right to object to automated decision making.

Here are the types of automated decision we make:

Applicant selection: if we receive too many applications by the published application deadline we will use an automated process to select applicants for interview as per the criteria in the admissions policy published on our website.

Attendance emails: we will send an automated email to your parent/guardian to highlight our concerns when we detect problem attendance.

How we use your data for profiling

Profiling is the automated processing of personal data to evaluate certain things about an individual. We will use profiling to identify vulnerable and potentially disadvantaged students (economically or sociologically) in order to effectively safeguard and support them.

This profiling is a result of data provided by you or received from the government. This is necessary in order for us to enrol you as a student and to demonstrate performance to Ofsted.

Sending data outside of the EEA

Google is an international organisation and in order to provide you with access to Google services your data may end up being transferred to a data center outside of the EEA. Google's privacy policy can be found here: <https://privacy.google.com/intl/en-GB/index.html>

Other service providers used by the College may also transfer or store data outside of the EEA. In such cases, it will only be where the destination country has been declared by the European Commission as having adequate levels of protection or where adequate and appropriate safeguards are in place.

If you choose not to give personal data

In most cases you will be required to provide the personal data requested, however, there will be some occasions when it is optional.

If you choose not to give us necessary personal data, it may delay or prevent us from meeting our obligations. It may also mean that we cannot perform services needed to provide you with a government funded education. It could mean that we are unable to offer you a place to study here or to continue to provide you with an education.

How we safeguard your personal data

We care about protecting your data. That's why we have in place a range of appropriate technical and organisational measures that are designed to prevent unauthorised access to, and misuse of, your personal data. These include measures to deal with any suspected data breach.

If you suspect any misuse of, loss of, or unauthorised access to your personal data please let us know immediately.

How long we keep your personal data

We will keep your data for as long as you are a student of The Prospect Trust.

After you stop being a student, we may keep your data for one of these reasons:

- to meet legislative requirements;
- to provide academic references;
- to provide previous students with information, for example the confirmation of grades;
- to allow data analysis and for statistical purposes; or
- to respond to any enquiries or complaints.

Applicant/student records will be destroyed once the retention period has expired. The retention schedule is published as part of our Data Protection Policy. Paper records will be securely destroyed onsite or via a confidential waste disposal company.

What rights you have over your personal data

The law gives you a number of rights in relation to your personal data including:

- the right to access the personal information we have about you;
- the right to get us to correct personal data that is wrong or incomplete;
- in certain circumstances, the right to ask us to stop using or to delete your personal data; and
- the right to receive your personal data in an easily re-usable format when it's processed on certain grounds, such as consent or for contractual reasons. You can also ask us to pass this information on to another organisation.

You can object to us keeping or using your personal data. This is known as the 'right to object'.

You can also ask us to delete, remove or stop using your personal data if there is no need for us to keep it. This is known as the 'right to erasure' or the 'right to be forgotten'. In some situations we may be able to restrict the use of your data.

There may be legal or other official reasons why we need to keep or use your data but please tell us if you think that we should not be using it.

Further information about your rights can be found on the ICO website: <https://ico.org.uk/for-organisations/guide-to-the-general-data-protection-regulation-gdpr/>.

Letting us know if your personal data is incorrect

You will need to tell us if your information changes, for example your legal name or contact details. Most of your information will be visible through CristalWeb. Some of it can be amended through CristalWeb, otherwise changes must be reported to Registry.

How to get a copy of your personal data

You have the right to ask us to confirm what data we hold about you at any time: this is known as a subject access request. If we provide you with access to the data we hold about you, we will not charge you for this unless your request is considered manifestly unfounded or excessive. Where we are legally permitted to do so, we may refuse your request, but we will tell you the reasons for doing so.

You can make a subject access request by contacting the Data Protection Officer: dpo@farnborough.ac.uk.

How to complain

Please let us know if you are unhappy with how we have used your personal data. Complaints should be made to the Data Protection Officer: dpo@farnborough.ac.uk.

You have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office.
